THE ONLY ICE PLANT IN THE NEW COUNTRY IS TO BE LOCATED AT ANADARKO

Arranged at White House

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 14.—The Sentinel tomorrow will say:

"D. M. Parry, vice-president of the Manufacturers Association, who probably will be elected president of the coming convention there in May, is being urged for the vice-presidential nomination on the ticket with President Roosevelt."

"Senator Beveridge has announced to Mr. Parry and his close friends that he wants to stay in the senate and will not allow his name to be used, and he is urging Mr. Parry's nomination."

"The two called on President Roosevelt two weeks ago in Washington, and during the conversation in the president's private office, the president jovially slapped Mr. Parry on the back and asked him how he would like to be on the ticket with him in 1904."

"Mr. Parry is a close friend of Senator Beveridge and was largely instrumental in securing his election to the senate by organizing Indianapolis business men for him."

"Mr. Parry when asked about the conversation between himself and the president, said he did not know how it could have become known as he had not repeated it. He added that some one at Washington must have told it. Mr. Parry's friends here believe he would accept the nomination."

Arbor Day.

By legislative enactment the first Friday after the second Monday in March of each year is set apart as Arbor Day throughout Oklahoma territory.

In Caddo county at this time it is of very great importance that school teachers, pupils and patrons take in an earnest practical observance of Arbor Day by planting trees, shrubbery, flowers and grasses on and around the school premises of their respective districts throughout the county, that said premises may be rendered beautiful, pleasant and attractive. A part of the day should be devoted to literary exercises having special reference to tree and plant culture, the methods of cultivating, propagating and preserving trees, flowers and grasses in this new country, the influence that vegetation has on rainfall and climate in general.

Arbor Day properly observed cultivates good taste and sentiment in children. Beautiful school grounds exercise a wholesome moral influence on the mind, we, therefore, urge parents and teachers to take advantage of this to encourage the work of transplanting our dreary and treeless school yards, where all the children assemble together to spend a part of the formative period of their lives, into the most pleasant and beautiful places in the community. C. W. TURNER, County Supt.

What is Man?

Man is a two-legged animal that chews tobacco and walks on the forked end.

Most men were born. We never heard of but one who wasn't and he was made out of mud just for a sample. Man is found in most parts of the world. He roams at will, feeds in the day time and sleeps at night—some nights.

Man is very tame. You can go up to him and put your hand on him anywhere so you don't put it on his pocketbook; he has under such condition been known to kick.

Man's life is full of disappointments, patent medicine and cob pipes.

He goes forth like a lion in the morning and leaves the wood for his wife to chop. In the evening he sneaks home with his pants ripped and raises Cain about "hard times."

Man is like a dog—howls a great deal and run around at night.

Like an elephant he has a trunk, but he does not always take it with him—the elephant does.

Men are like nails in one respect, in nine cases out of ten where either of them are crooked they have been driven into it by a woman.

Men are like chickens—they always want to get on the highest roost.

No man will swear before a lady; he always lets her swear first.

Little things worry a man most—twins for instance.

Man may enjoy taking his sweetheart upon his knee, but after marriage he doesn't like to be "sat upon."

Man flourishes like a ragweed today and tomorrow the undertaker has him salted away in his ice box.

Now, as to what man is really good for, anthropology is still in the dark. Being strong he is used to drawing pictures, carry news and pull revolvers. Properly trained man can jump higher than any known animal. He has even been known to jump mountain resort board bills.

Although in many respects man is like other animals, in this respect he differs from all. He lies while standing up.—Stolen from other thieves.

May Commute.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—Mr. Hitchcock, secretary of the interior, has addressed a letter to chairman Lacey, of the house committee on public lands, approving the bill offered by Delegate Flynn, of Oklahoma, relating to commuting of homestead entries in Oklahoma. Mr. Hitchcock explains in his letter that the bill is desired for relief of the citizens of Lawton, Hobart and Anadarko, the county seats of the three counties recently established by the opening of the Kiowa-Comanche country. These three towns have grown so rapidly that all of the townsite property has been occupied and there is now a pressing demand for more room. Under the law the homesteaders who preempted their lands adjoining the townsite cannot get possession of their property or make transfers of it until fourteen months from the date of entry.

The bill provides that homesteaders, by paying $10 an acre for their property may get title at once. This is desired by all of the citizens of the three towns. When the drawing commenced at El Reno Mr. J. R. Woods drew the first ticket and promptly filed on 160 acres adjoining the townsite. The second ticket was drawn by Miss Mattie Beal of Wichita, who took the quarter section adjoining Mr. Woods' claim. It was estimated at the time that Mr. Woods' claim was worth $40,000 and that of Miss Beal at least $20,000. Both of these claims are demanded for townsite property and their value will probably exceed the original estimates.

The Last Heard of It

"My little boy took to croup one night and soon grew so bad you could hear him breathe all over the house," says F. D. Reynolds, Mansfield, O., "we feared he would die, but a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved him and he went to sleep. That's the last we heard of the croup. Now isn't a cough cure like that valuable?" One Minute Cough Cure is absolutely safe and acts immediately. For coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, and all other throat and lung troubles it is a certain cure. Very pleasant to take. The little one like it. W. H. Smith & Son.
